"Wet Feet" Held Cause Of El Cerrito Boundary Dispute

Whether a "line of convenience" placed by the surveyors years ago is the true boundary line between El Cerrito and Albany or whether the center of the Cerritos creek is the boundary is the problems now confronting the engineers of these two cities.

To install concrete culverts in place of the present wooden culverts, the boundaries must be determined so that the costs can be placed. The history of the boundary is interesting.

One version has it that a party of surveyors declined to get their feet wet when a spring freshet rushed down the creek bed some time during the last century and placed the "line of convenience" along the left bank of the stream. With this for a boundary, El Cerrito would be forced to pay the full costs of the improvements. This line which now varies from ten to fifty feet is believed by City Engineer Ross L. Calfee of El Cerrito to have been placed by a survey party in 1893.

Another version that is current places the time of the party as far back as the fifties. It is definitely known that the boundary is the outgrowth of the original dividing line of the San Pablo rancho, including approximately 19,800 acres between the bay shore and the summit of the hills and Cerritos creek and Pinole, and San Antonio rancho, composed of what is now the city of Albany. Francisco Castro gained the grant of the San Pablo rancho from the Spanish government in 1823, but it was thirty years before his family secured definite title to the area. The claim was recognized by the United States government, Castro and his heirs did not help clarify matters when they

Infidelity Basis Of Divorce Suit

When Mrs. Teadora Cardenas returned from work at an Emeryville cannery and found a woman in her Richmond home with her husband, Gregorio Cardenas, she ordered the woman to leave, but her husband objected to the ejection so strongly that he struck her severely. Mrs. Cardenas declares in suit for divorce she fled yesterday. She learned, Mrs. Cardenas declares, that while she was employed during the day, a woman had several times visited the residence while her husband, a night worker on the railroad, was there. She charges that Cardenas several times threatened her life. She asks to be awarded $25 monthly alimony. They married in 1918. The suit was filed through Attorney Will Robinson.

NAVY OFFICIALS OVERLOOK NO ANGLE IN HUNT

Green Flares Believed
To Have Been Light
Of Ranch House

The Navy won't quit the search for the Dole-birds until hope itself is dead!

Late yesterday, from Washington Admiral Eberle authorized further continuance of the quest as long as naval officials in charge of the great sea-hunt deem advisable.

NEW HUNT LAUNCHED

And on that authorization, experts of the Twelfth Naval district last night were poring over Pacific charts, marking whatever unexplored areas may remain into which the missing planes may have flown or drifted in order to send the Navy's stock terrors—the destroyers—speeding thither that no chance of rescue may be overlooked.

GAS LIGHT FLARE!

HONOLULU, Aug. 24.—A gas line lamp being tried out by a cook in a ranch house was thought responsible tonight for the green flares which caused many to believe that the missing Dole fliers might have landed on the island of Hawaii.

NO TRACE FOUND

Three army airplanes and the "Aloha" piloted by Martin Jensen, winner of second place in the Honolulu race returned here today after a trip of investigation. They found no trace of any plane landing.

NO FLARES CARRIED

Sacco, Vanzetti Meeting Turns Out "Scare"

The Sacco Vanzetti mass meeting in Valona to which all "red" sympathizers were called to attend proved a "dud."

The speaker, who came here only six months ago from Italy and who hardly speaks a word of English, debated for some little time whether he would talk at all when he saw a squad of deputy sheriffs enter the hall and scatter among the audience. He finally decided to go ahead with the meeting but devoted himself almost exclusively to criticism of Mussolini and his methods although he did express sympathy for the two anarchists executed Tuesday morning for murder and derided exactness of the death penalty.

WILSON HOSTS

George Anderson and family of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Wilson of 2357 Esmond avenue. The Andersons arrived last Thursday and will remain here several weeks.

INSTALLS GAS VENT

D. Murphy will add a terra cotta vent to a house on the east side of Fifteenth street, between Bisell and Chanslor avenues, according to a building permit issued yesterday by City Building Inspector A. J. Hurley.

Trapp Removed As Manager Of "Jenny Wren" In Cash Crisis

Trapp, who has been receiving $26,000 a year, goes off the company payroll entirely. His undated resignation is in the hands of the creditors' committee and his Jenny Wren stock will be held in escrow until the firm is on a sound financial basis. He has offered to serve the concern in an advisory capacity.

Trapp told the creditors' committee that he was unable to raise $50,000 toward a fund of $100,000 for the "financial rehabilitation" of the chain store system and the entire amount is to be subscribed by stockholders.

Harrison is a member of the firm of Springer and Harrison, food distributors, and was formerly connected with the wholesale grocery firm of J. H. Newbauer and Company. He took charge immediately after his appointment yesterday afternoon.

German Ship Captured During War Dismantled At Pittsburg

PITTSBURG, August 24.—Still tugging restlessly at the hawsers that bind her to the wharf of a scrap yard that she will never leave, except in pieces, the sturdy ocean freighter Pensacola, German owned until captured during the war by the United States, is today a quaint reminder of a vanished glory.

At the Bundes and Leuztzen shipyard here, the Pensacola is being dismantled and her iron and steel hull and boilers and plates taken to the plant of the Columbia Steel Corporation a few blocks away, where their identity will soon be lost.

The Pensacola was built in German shipyards back in 1911, and operated until 1914. When the Great War broke out, she became an adjunct to the troops supply fleet of the German navy.

Upon the entry of the United States into the war in 1917, the Pensacola was seized by an American destroyer, but not before her engines were demolished by her German masters.

Repaired and refitted, the vessel saw service for three years under the American flag as a troop ship at the island of Guam. When the war ended, so did the Pensacola's usefulness. It was buffeted around from place to place by the government which no longer wanted its service until it finally found its way into the ownership of M. Davidson of Stockton.

"Junk" was what the vessel, sold as, and junk is what it is, fast becoming as the Pittsburg metal plant.

OAK MAN FINED $10

Travelling eight miles in excess of the new speed limit, J. Murkush, 29, Lincoln avenue, Oakland, was fined $10 when he appeared before Police Judge C. A. Odell, yesterday. He is said to have been speeding 48 miles an hour on Cutting boulevard.

RICHMOND HAS DYNAMIC CLARA BOW ON SCREEN

Dynamic Clara Bow has hit the best picture audiences at the Richmond theatre entrance, turning and turning from start to finish in "Rough House Rosie."
"Rough House Rosie" is one of those all-in-one picture plays that set out to be nothing more or less than one hundred per cent entertainment and accomplish their purpose.

This Saturday Evening "Post" story by Nannally Johnson opens with a beach carnival, proceeds to a gay cabaret with Clara leading her "Rough House" in a novel little dance, moves to a fashionable country club and a gay party of the upper social set and closes with a racing fight, as Clara at the ring-side urges her big boy friend, Joe Hennessey, on to victory and the middleweight championship. It's a great picture, a great show and one that's well worth seeing twice.

Read "Hoskinson" in the Doris Hill, John Miljan, Douglas Gilmore and Henry Kolker head the supporting roles and are ideally placed in their roles. Frank Strayer directed. Max March made the clever adaptation. The screen play was written by Louise Loring and Ethel Leary.

Other film features include
"Flaming Romance", a roaring comedy, and the latest Fox News Reel.

"TWELVE MILES OUT," now being screened at the Califor-

"TWELVE MILES OUT" SCREENED AT CALIFORNIA

John Gilbert is a human storehouse of surprises for the film audiences of the world.

He has just unloaded another gem in his bag of tricks—to give the theatre one of the highest surprises in many a moon in "Twelve Miles Out," his latest Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer vehicle, now playing at the California theatre.

He mixes thrills and battles, sensations and romance in a blend of hundred per cent screen entertainment that has his audience alternately gasping in amazement or enchanted by the sheer beauty of the romance that underlies the incessant excitement of the strange plot.

"Twelve Miles Out" is a tale of adventure on the high seas, based on the latest fiction in American life—the war between the runner and the revenue service.

The thrilling race at sea, when the revenue pursue a run-ner's sloop in a desperate race the vicious battle staged by Gilbert and Ernest Torrence on the smuggling boat, these are some of the high lights on the excitement side of the ledger.

Joan Crawford makes a charming heroine.

Other features include "Humdinger," a roaring comedy; "River Road," a screen novelty; and "International News."

Insurance Premium High In Days Of Old Babylon

(By Universal Service)

CAROL, Aug. 24.—Thousands of years before the present era, Babylonian traders were able to insure goods against loss from bandits and marauding tribes, declares a local broker in the Egyptian Gazette, tracing the practice of insurance to its earliest beginnings.

The insurance premium was very high in the days of Babylon's greatness, under King Khammaribi rule. Merchandise was supplied the trader on loan, the manufacturer receiving half of the profits if the goods exceeded 100 per cent of the value of the goods. The minimum interest charged at any time was 100 per cent.

Victory Of Progress Seen In Favorable Bond Action

The success of the harbor bonds, and was declared to be a "victory for the people of Richmond" by President P. M. Sanford, president of the Chamber of Commerce, at the director's meeting yesterday. New Hotel Carquinez.

"The vote," he said was an "expression of confidence of the citizens in their city. It was an expression of confidence of the people in the mayor and city council and the unselfish men and women who gave so wholeheartedly to the success of the bond campaign."

Mayor Mattie E. Chandler, guest of the directors, in a few carefully chosen words paid tribute to the men of the chamber of commerce who had worked for the bonds and thanked everyone who had to do with the splendid victory.

A resolution urging the City Council to send a congratulatory letter to Congressman Charles P. Curry, thanking him for his splendid contribution in the success of the harbor bonds, was adopted by unanimous vote.

H. A. Johnson, chairman of the harbor bonds finance committee, made his final report which was adopted.

Brief talks were made by E. B. Bull and Fred D. Parr, told of his plans for a trip to the Eastern cities where he hoped to bring back another major industry to Richmond as a result of the harbor bonds election.

Peking Flapper Worried By Chang Tso Lin Dress Order

PEKING, August 24.—Peking's first offender against the new "Modest Dress, order languishes in a prison cell because she exhibited a vast expanse of silk stockings where her female forbears were wont to show trousers.

The pretty flapper who was strolling with two boy friends in a south city park was all too unconscious of the eye of the law as it gave her silken clad legs the once over. She made her mistake, however, when the policeman politely intimated that her attire bordered on the nude. She expostulated and talked volubly of her personal freedom and such like.

The result was that the girl and her two boy friends arrived at the police station where the magistrate agreed with the police officer that the flapper had violated the new order in that she wore and legs to the public gaze.

The police order, which has the young flapper come, is credited to Dictator Chang Tso-lin. Couched in scholarly Chinese language, it asserts that "women are forbidden both by custom and law to wear fantastic dress. The primary motive of such prohibition is to prevent evils and uphold good morals."

Continuing the order points out that "at first it was only the inmates of disorderly houses who chose to wear something daring in order to please their patrons."

MRS. SANFORD THANKS VOTERS FOR BOND AID

To The People of Richmond:

I want to thank the voters who so generously supported the Harbor Bonds, making the election a wonderful success. I have seen Richmond grow from one house on Macdonald Avenue to a population of 30,000, and feel that now our pioneer days are over. Richmond is destined to be a wonderful commercial city, with factories and ever-growing along the waterfront. I have received letters from several bonding and loan companies who have been waiting for a report on the Harbor Bond election. Now they will be ready to loan liberally to builders who are planning a building program.

With the government matching the money we invest, dollar for dollar, and Mr. Fred Parr continuing his development program, inviting industries to locate here, I feel that Richmond is entering a new era of success and prosperity. I am sure that I voice the sentiments of all those engaged in the real estate profession, in thanking all those who voted and helped to make the Harbor Bond election a great success in every way.

MRS. W. H. SANFORD, Realtor, Member Harbor Bond Committee.

Man Fined $50 For Battery

Donald A. Millon was fined $50 when he appeared before Justice of the Peace John Roth yesterday and pleaded guilty to a charge of battery preferred against him by Mrs. Eleanor Warren of this city.

According to court officials, Millon called at the Warren home as Mrs. Warren was preparing to depart for the business section and offered to transport her in his car. Instead he is said to have taken her to an isolated spot and committed battery. There was no sufficient evidence to hold Millon on a more serious charge, the authorities declared.

Lancha Plana Project Rapidly Getting Under Construction

The site of the great Lancha Plana Reservoir in the hills thirty-five miles northeast of Stockton, formerly inhabited only by coyotes and jackrabbits, is rapidly becoming a beehive of human activity. It was said yesterday by Arthur P. Davis, Chief Engineer and General Manager of the East Bay Municipal Utility District, who returned to Oakland after a tour of inspection.

On this spot will soon rise the dam more than 350 feet in height, which will create the great reservoir to be known as Lake Pardee, which is to be the central feature of the Mokelumne water project now under way by the nine East Bay cities forming the Utility District.

CONTRACTORS AT WORK
Two contractors, Lynn Atkinson on the dam, and Charles and George G. Thompson on the tunnel which leads directly from the dam to the pipe line, are at work building housing accommodations for the many hundreds of men who will be employed night and day for a couple or more years on these two large features of the water project.

The Chief Engineer said that both contractors are working to the limit of their ability to get going in the largest possible way before winter.

"The biggest operations, however, will be impossible until after the four mile railroad has been laid from Valley Springs said Davis. "The right-of-way is mostly graded and the laying of steel should begin in the near future. This will give direct rail transportation to the dam for the economical transportation of heavy machinery and great masses of material."

RACE AGAINST WINTER
"Atkinson is making all haste to build the foundation of the dam from bedrock to the surface of the stream bed before the winter floods set in. This is somewhat of a race against time but with good luck he should make it. Excavation for this foundation will start within the next week or two. Just how deep he will have to go is not known.

"The contractor will have to build a large flume to divert the water while he is at work on the dam this winter. This flume is to be constructed to carry five thousand second feet; beyond which the river does not often go before January. His anxiety to finish the foundation of the dam before the floods come on is based on the fact that these floods might overwhelm the excavation and cause delay.

"The Thompsons have already started at one end of the Pardee Tunnel but are still working in the open cut. They will be underground before the wet weather sets in. This tunnel is a little over two miles in length."

CULVER CITY.—New underground telephone conduit installed north and south of Venice boulevard by Southern California Telephone company.

Ed Sullivan's SPORT WHIRL

PAUL WANER, THE MIGHTY M.L.E.

It's not hard to picture burly Harry Heilmann or Larupin' Lou Gehrig as big league fence busters.

They look the part.

However, any one seeing Paul Waner in civilian clothes might reasonably doubt that this comparatively small youngster was the same Waner who has embarked on a career of terror in the National League. Paul Waner of the Pittsburgh Pirates is the swashbuckler who leads the N. L. swatters and who has been earning doubles and triples off National League batters.

I pictured him a big fellow.

I found him in the Hotel Alhambra lobby looking at the world from under a collegiate Panama hat and happy in the knowledge that the baseball fans wait right past him, heedless of his identity.

At 24 you might pardon Paul Waner of Hahrah, Okla., if he paraded his fame and his batting average.

Actually he is dubbed as a rookie making his first big league try.

"Nobody believes I am the Paul Waner the papers write about," he smilingly admitted. "They look at me and say: 'Now don't kid me, young fellow. You may be a high school player but you're too small for the big leagues.'"

Waner, youthful in appearance, about 5 feet 9 tall and weighing around 155 pounds, is deceptive to the eye.

Fans may not recognize him on the field, but National League pitchers feel a cold chill gripping them when this Oklahoma strapping walks to the plate and takes his southpaw stance.

His calling card in the National League is a triple or double or home run and he has left his cards in every park on the Heydier circuit.

ALMOST PINCH-HIT FOR BLACKSTONE

Waner, and I am still referring to Paul, is just as nice a kid as you will find anywhere.

They say his brother Lloyd, who is younger, smaller, but just as poisonous at bat and field, is a happy-go-lucky type. He cocks his hat on the back of his head and speaks line drives with an impertinence befitting his years.

Boze Bulger calls Paul and Lloyd the Katzenjammer kids of baseball, and the nickname describes Lloyd perfectly. Paul is more serious. He is on his hon yon now, having married an Oklahoma girl who studied at Columbia University in New York city, and his demeanor is that of a family man despite his age of 24.

Paul Waner's sensational success as a member of the Pittsburgh club is unusual for several reasons.

In the first place, he was supposed to have studied for law. Walter Huston, in "The Barker," wanted his son to give up the circus racket and study law, and the son finally did.

Orr Waner, a former minor league player, wanted his son Paul to steer clear of professional baseball and study law. Fathers never want their sons to follow in their professional footsteps for some reason or other.

"But from the time I was old enough to throw a baseball," says Paul, "I wanted to be a big leaguer. I had played basketball and tennis and golf and I had been a fair swimmer, but baseball was my dish."

"I tried to follow out my dad's plans for a law career, for he is a great scout, but I spent more time in sports than I did with my books while going to Oklahoma City High School, and later Normal School."

"When San Francisco, in the Pacific Coast League, propositioned me, my father generously let me go. 'Do your best, Paul,' he told me. When I made good there he forgot all of his objections, and he was happier than I was when Pittsburgh bought me."

HE'S A REFORMED SOUTHPAW PITCHER

When San Francisco summoned Paul Waner to the Seals they thought they were getting a left-handed pitching star.

So did Paul, which made it unanimous.

It was as a pitcher and first baseman and outfielder that he earned $25 and expenses per game on the Oklahoma sand lots, but pitching was his specialty.

Pitching on sand lots is quite a bit different from pitching every three days on a league team. Paul Waner learned that fact when his pitching arm went lame.

At the time he thought it the unluckiest break he could have run afoul of.

Instead it was the break that was to send him skyrocketing through the majors two years later.

LIONS HUNGRY FOR HIDES OF KIWANIS TEAM

The sporting world of three continents, or is it four was startled by the announcement of the lineups for the great Lions-Kiwanis game to be played at the First street grounds September 3.

For the second time, Richmond is to be thrilled with stars of the diamond never seen in the big leagues. And it's because the War Mothers are building a memorial.

The two teams, deadly rivals, have met before with the Kiwanians winning. But Bob Smith's fierce Lions are out for the Kiwanians hides this time. Bob said yesterday that his men would not eat for three days prior to the game, saving their appetites for the Kiwanians on whom they intend to feast.

Bob Root, manager of the Kiwanians, had a broad smile on his face, visible over the telephone, as he announced his all star cast for the day's entertainment.

The Kiwanians will have Dr. R. R. Root, H. L. Seawright, Mose Moitzen, R. C. Stock, Chuck Barry, Art MacDonald, Duke Evans, Charles Brombacher and Ralph Bergen.

The fiercest Lions of the Richmond den will oppose them:

Look at the lineup, Eddie Burg, C. John Miller, p; Keech Mylander, 1b; Clint Smith, ss; Lou Burk 2b; George Boehmer, 3b; Bob Smith, lf; E. J. Emmrich, rf; and Ed Hoffman, cf. The team will be reinforced by the following subs: Al Furrer, Zeb Knott, Fred Caudle, Tom Carlson and Dr. A. B. Hinkley.

Oh, They're Wild Over Gene

WHO EVER SAID GENE TUNNEY, our heavyweight, was unpopular? The fans are going mad over the handsome ex-marine. One nut who escaped from the Ulla State Hospital met the champ as he was returning from his morning hike, demanding that Gene battle him right on the road for the title. Tunney recoiled a few yards of Shelley's poetry to him, and the big bug quieted down. It was later ascertained that he had not been right since witnessing the Dempsey-Tunney fight at Philadelphia last year.

HEART TROUBLE
Marvelously Relieved

While visiting her daughter here in Oakland, Mrs. W. H. Morton of Stockton was in such great pain due to heart trouble that it affected her left hand. She could neither walk nor rest with the slightest comfort. All the physicians whom she consulted expressed the opinion that she had not more than ten days to live. She truly seemed to be at the point of death when she took her first package of the Fong Wan Herb Co. It was cooked for her at home, and that night she had the first rest after many weeks of terrible suffering. After four weeks of the Fong Wan Herb Treatment, she was able to return to her home in Stockton. From that city she has sent the following testimonial to the Fong Wan Herb Co.:
OWES HER LIFE TO FONG WAN HERBS
Stockton, Cal., March 21, 1927.
To the Fong Wan Herb Co.: I have been a sufferer with valvular trouble of the heart for some time. I became so ill that my doctors, who were many, gave me but a week or ten days to live.
I decided to try the Fong Wan Herb Co., and to the amazement of all who attended me I was able to walk into their office after taking the Herbs one week. I have now taken them four weeks and I not only have a good heart, but have also been helped in other ailments.
I cannot speak too highly of the Fong Wan Herbs, as I owe my life to them. I am very grateful to Fong Wan for his kindness.

EXCHANGE CLUB TO BE PLANNED FOR AT LUNCH

A preliminary meeting of the Richmond Exchange club will hear a talk by William Hewitt of Oakland, district governor of Exchange clubs of central California at a luncheon today at the Hotel Carquinez.

The president of the affiliated Exchange clubs of California is Murray Williams, manager of the Modesto branch of the Bank of Italy; Attorney Ralph Wright of Marquette is vice president; and the state secretary is E. L. Vandellen principal of the Salinas high school.

The code of Ethics of the Exchange club as follows:

Organization to be the most effective must have a common objective; one which all the units of the organization see and understand, and this objective should be so coupled with individual benefit and group benefit as to furnish the most powerful incentive toward individual and group effort. This is simply the adoption of the Principle of Right as the unerring law of action, and we acknowledge that the right way gives us the right-of-way.

1. To seek to return a benefit to society for its protection rendered.

2. To stimulate each other to increasing pursuit of the highest ideals.

3. To strengthen the individual and promote unity of purpose that a more virile society may result.

4. To acknowledge our civic responsibility and encourage the increase of disinterested exertion to promote the common good.

5. To encourage in thought and action that which which finds expression in understanding and helping.

6. To seek always the enactment of laws that will tend to insure the peace and tranquility of the people, ever opposing those that limit rightful freedom.

7. To promote fellowship among all men, realizing that its comprehensive force broadens opinions, increases abilities, purges character and enriches lives thus developing finer communities in which to live.

Kiwanians Told Of Work Along Service Lines

Telling of the work being done by service clubs and school departments in the vocational guidance lines for boys and girls, Prof. E. A. Lee, of the University of California, addressed the members of the Richmond Kiwanis club in the Hotel Carquinez yesterday.

He declared that nine out of 10 young men enter work by the time they are 18 years of age and he stressed the importance of their guidance into proper vocations.

Mayor Mattie Chandler and Hall W. Sanders, manager of the Harbor Bond campaign, expressed their appreciation for the aid furnished by the Kiwanians in making the election an overwhelming success.

Lee Wharton was chairman of the day. Captain E. H. Howard, of the fire department, rang several numbers.

The Standard Oil Tanker, W. S. Miller docked at the long wharf of the company yesterday. The Miller was one of the first ships to respond to the "S. O. S." of the Dallas Spirit. ## Widening Of San Pablo Proposed In Berkeley

The widening of San Pablo avenue from Virginia street to Allison Way is proposed in a communication addressed to the city planning commission of Berkeley by the West Berkeley Commercial association.

The proposed widening of the avenue a distance of five blocks would smash Berkeley's "bottle neck" and relieve congestion traffic at the merging point of the Berkeley-San Francisco ferry and the East Bay ferry.

Jap Bank Crashes Ruin Two Princes

(By Universal Service)
TOKIO, Aug. 24.—The crash of a score of banks recently in Japan has made bankrupts of two princes it has just been revealed. One of them, Prince Matsukata, has offered to give up his rank as well as his estate to satisfy his creditors. The other, Prince Shimazaki, has sold his great palace in Tokyo and turned over all the money obtained to pay his debts.

Prince Matsukata was a director in one of the banks which failed and gave up his entire personal fortune.

Chamber Speaker Tells Income Tax Problem

Paul Deleware Smith, field representative in the Western States of the United States Chamber of Commerce of which the Richmond Chamber of Commerce is a member, was a visitor to Richmond yesterday.

He was a guest at the regular luncheon meeting of the directors and was called upon for a brief talk. After briefly outlining the services of the United States Chamber of Commerce, which, he pointed out acted as a sort of clearing house for all chambers of commerce and commercial organizations, affiliated members in United States, said that the major matter before the United States Chamber of Commerce today is to get Congress to enact a measure reducing the industrial income tax to 10 per cent flat instead of the present rate of 13 1/2 per cent.

"There is a $600,000,000 surplus in the United States treasury from income taxes," said Smith. "The problem is whether to return this money or use it as a basis of reducing the income tax. The United States Chamber of Commerce is committed to the tax reduction program."

Smith congratulated Richmond on the success of its harbor bonds and paid tribute to the work of the chamber of commerce, which he said was the motivating force behind every civic movement for the benefit of the city.

"WET FEET"

traded parcels of land for horses and other stock and goods. It was found later that they had given away several times as much land as they had ever had, and the 1893 survey was undertaken at the instigation of the Contra Costa county courts to provide a fair partition of the land between the multitude of claimants.

Capt. F. Aldert of the United States army was the civil engineer in charge of the survey which is now charged with placing the mooted "line of convenience" along the left bank of Cerritos creek. Both cities are now working on the assumption that the center of the creek is the proper division line, although the "line of convenience" has long been recognized by city and county assessors.

It is this problem which it is hoped will be settled at a conference some time this week between City Attorney Wilbur S. Pierce of El Cerrito and City Attorney L. K. Fraser of Albany, and another between the city engineers of the two cities. The times and places for the conferences have not yet been set.

Search Pacific for Missing Planes

race had green flares. Both Goebel and his navigator, Lieut. W. V. Davis were given an enthusiastic farewell.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—And there was still no word today of the missing flyers who more than a week ago today took off from Oakland airport for Honolulu, Hawaii, which seems to have turned out to be destiny.

There was John "Augie" Pedlar, whose hopes were so high just a week ago and one day. There was Miss Mildred Doran who smilingly submitted to cheerful interviews and there was Vila Knope who didn't have a great deal to say, but he said what he did have. And there was "Jack" Frost, the never doubted but that he would reach Hawaii. His navigator, Gordon Scott, felt the same way about it.

Three days later two other staunch souls set out in quest of the ones who were believed to have been lost. They were "William One Star Bill Erwin" and his navigator, Alvin Elchwald.

Of the seven, not one word has been heard. Speculation was all that anyone could offer today and speculation was not so cheerful. Radio, the United States navy, fishing craft, passenger and freight ships—there was no encouragement anywhere. The limitless expanse of the Pacific had apparently swallowed its secret, and there was no way of making it tell.

After clinging to anything which might lend encouragement for more than a week, hope was practically abandoned today as two radio rumors were found to be false. There were two similar reports last night which could not be verified.

Eight of the nine days to which a final hope has been clinging because of the experience two years ago of Commander John Rodgers and his crew of five have elapsed. A repetition of his experience was forsaken today, when it was realized that the Dole flyers probably went down in waters not so placid.

Passenger, freight ships were today resuming normal courses and life was "going on as usual" in Pacific Coast cities.

But the navy had not yet quit and this was the final hope of those who were faltering today. The seven lives tossed up in the interest of the future of aerial navigation were despaired of tonight as it was realized that nothing further could be done. Even those closest to the flyers could hold out no encouragement.

Libel Filed In Ship Sinking

An aftermath of the sinking of the river steamer Stanley, Roberts in New York slough, July 26, in which three lives were lost, was founded in the United States District Court yesterday when the Dealer's Transportation Company, owners of the vessel, filed a libel for $31,300.

The defendants are the Harbor Tug and Barge Company, the motor vessel Sonoma and the launch Panama. The complaint charges that the Sonoma collided with a barge being towed by the Panama and that a load of large pipe was dumped in the river, where it became a hidden menace to navigation. The libelants allege no effort was made to mark the sunken pipe and that for this reason the Stanley Roberts hit it and overturned, with consequent financial loss and the loss of life.

FRENZIED REDS DISPERSED BY POLICE GUARDS

her daughter, accompanied by a policeman, to deliver the ultimatum.

Consequently the bodies of Sacco and Vanzetti were forced to remain today in the undertaking parlors where they were embalmed while those having charge of the funeral plans scurried around looking for another hall. At a late hour today they were still looking.

HEALTH PROBE FEARED
It was generally predicted here this afternoon that even if they find one the city authorities, probably the Health department will break up their plans.

It is also reliably reported that the Boston police will not permit a funeral procession that bears any similarity to a parade of protest. This may break up the gigantic "march of sorrow" arranged for Sunday when it is planned to cremate the two bodies.

ORDINANCE INVOKED
What is more a city ordinance providing that all bodies must be buried or cremated within four days after death, may be invoked. Present funeral plans call for the procession to pass in front of the state house, the scene of so many frantic pleas to Governor Fuller to save the two men.

The caskets are to be borne by sympathizers, with Miss Luigia Vanzetti and Mrs. Rose Sacco, sister and widow of the executed anarchists, and other mourners following in automobiles.

PARADE IN QUESTION
It is a question, now whether the police will permit any kind of a funeral procession that will attract extra-ordinary attention.

When Mrs. Twigg's daughter called on the committee today she said:

"You people cannot have this building for those two persons. You cannot put those bodies in here. We are going to have a carpenter put up boards down stairs and you cannot get in here until after the funeral is over."

ORATOR TO BE CHOSEN

The defense committee was looking around today for some person of national prominence to give the funeral oration. They have not selected any one yet.

The personal belongings of Sacco and Vanzetti were brought from the state prison today by Attorney M. A. Musmanno. They were wrapped in two small bundles. Musmanno opened the packages at defense headquarters and took out two volumes of "The Rise of Civilization in America," which Vanzetti had left to him. In each was the inscription:

"With all my heart to my friend, defender and brother, Michael Angelo Musmanno, August 11, 1927." He took the rest of the things to Miss Luigia Vanzetti and Mrs. Rose Sacco, sister and widow of the dead.
